Foreword

This year we have abandoned the custom of having a theme with the purpose of setting an ideal for the graduate.

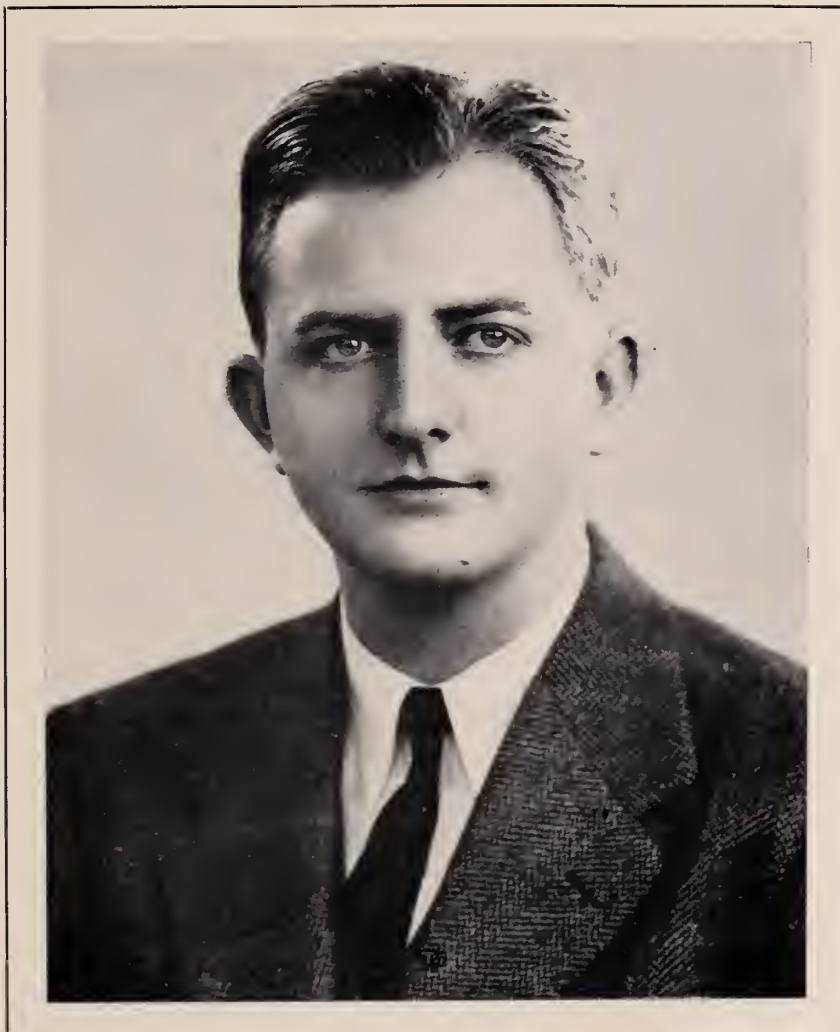

We, the seniors, are just closing a chapter of our lives. With this in mind, the annual staff has chosen to make a photographic history of this chapter; to remind you of the four happy years spent in N. N. H. S. . . . . the life of the student each day, the problems . . . . . all of the passing events experienced; in short, to recall for you . . . your "School Days"!

Dedication

*I*N recognition of his fine work as an instructor of English, advisor of the Writers' Club and its publication "Launchings," his keen interest and cooperation in school activities, the February 1942 Beacon Annual is respectfully dedicated to

Robert Carrington Vaden, Jr.

ROBERT CARRINGTON VADEN, JR.

Sponsor's Message

In the Book of Proverbs, the wise men of old wrote, "FOR AS A MAN THINKETH IN HIS HEART SO HE IS". In their original setting these words refer to an evil-minded host: one who made a great feast and invited many guests, and while he urged his guests to enjoy the food, in his heart he resented their presence at his table. With fine directness, the Psalmist tells us that such a host is not as his words or wealth, but as his thinking.

Surely all the wisdom of the ancients is summed up in Solomon's words "Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life". Youth must learn early in life to make decisions, for drifting with the crowd is uncertain, and sure to end in catastrophe.

The distinguishing mark is not the house we were born in, the blood that flows in our veins, the size of our bank account, or the car we own. These have little to do, if anything, with civilization's real aristocracy. The thing that really makes the difference is found in our thinking. For as men and women think, deeply think, so they are.

What you are now and what you will be in future years depends upon your thinking. Whatever the time and circumstances, you are what you think you are, clean or unclean, hopeful or despairing, weak or strong, rich or poor.

Tell me what your thoughts are and I will tell what you are now and what you will be in the future. If they are noble, clean, and strong, if you think there is a work to do in the world, hard tasks to be met and conquered, you will become as noble in your lives as your noblest thoughts.

Whot therefore your heart; set a guard about it and keep this citadel of the soul; for out of it are "the issues of life".

—Carlos Urrutia.

To Our Alma Mater

Although our futures call us
And we must say farewell,
All the hours that we have spent here
In our memory dwell,
Within our memory dwell.

We love you Alma Mater
We are so proud of you.
In our hearts your colors wave
The loyal gold and blue,
Thy honored gold and blue.

Class Mascot

CARMEN ELIZABETH SHACKELFORD

As an unusual feature this year, the February 1942 class chose Miss Carmen Elizabeth Shackelford, four-year-old granddaughter of its sponsor, Mr. Urrutia, as mascot.

To the left, is a snapshot of her with her grandfather; to the right, with her uncle, Huyke Urrutia, a prominent alumnus of the high school.

"We Studied But That Ain't All"

Below are the statements of the February '42 grads regarding their most outstanding and unusual experience of their four years in high school.

Margaret Wilkinson—"I shall never forget being congratulated as Mrs. Richman by Mr. Urrutia after my rumored marriage to Billy."

Fred Ewing—"It was the day that I fell asleep in Miss Gambill's 7c and didn't wake up 'til my books hit the floor!"

Mabel Harrell—"Imagine being called a louse by MR. WILKINSON!"

Russell Quynn—"Learning haw"—(we couldn't figure it out either).

Betty Hassell—"Receiving that sweet note from (censored—but he's an algebra IV teacher!)"

Leo Cabell—"Skipping school was always fun until the day we encountered Mr. Green and almost ran over him. We discovered later that the peculiar behavior of the car was caused by our driver being hidden beneath the dashboard."

Betty Dorey—"I shall never cease wondering why I was ejected from Modern II for sewing on "baby diapers." (Was the bashful professor allergic to babies?)."

Warren Stephens—"Daily departures by force from home room 110."

Martha Smarr—"Mr. Loop's cooperative attitude in permitting me to finish my lunch in the hall after the 12:30 bell."

Kemper Kellogg—"Those little conversations with Mr. Green."

Margaret Verell—"When Betty Hassell and Ruth Shelton promised to get me a date with Fred Ewing. I thought the chase was ending—but he's still running!"

Laurence Johnson—"I shall never forget the expression on the faces of two teachers who came in to the Beacon room and found two editors puffing heartedly on their stogies."

Ruth Shelton—"I never realized the actual strength of these freshies running around 'til one of them knocked me down the third floor stairs—on my face!"

Judge Boutchard—"There was the day the boys and I were caught by Mr. Wilkinson shooting crap."

Lucinda Jones—"Having to kiss Mr. Levv for Thespian initiation and then having to go back and wipe the lipstick off."

Agnes McMurrin—"I'll never forget 'Coach' Kirk's swing version of "Columbus was the Discoverer of America" at his farewell banquet."

Jane Williams—"My greatest thrill, as a freshman, was pursuing Earl W. and, as a senior, catching him—I hope!"

Thomas Roach—"Imagine Miss Ramsey calling me, a football player, "little one'."

Mae Hoster—"Golly, was I scared when I almost ran in a ditch while driving for driving class."

Annual Staff—"Well, we know it was corny, so we hereby close with our latest motto: 'Cui bono' (Cicero): 'What's the use?'"
